ON THE FUNNY SIDE

HER EXACT WORDS:

Bill—So you asked the sweet little thing to marry you?

Gill—Yes, I did.

Bill—And she said 'yes,' I suppose?

Gill—No, she didn't.

Bill—Well, she said 'no,' did she?

Gill—Exactly.

Bill—Well, what did she say, then?

Gill—She said 'Nothin' doin'.

Evidently, not by the senses. An American was with a gushing enthusiasm describing his new car to an English visitor. "It runs so smoothly," he said, "you can't feel it. Not a bit of noise, you can't hear it. Perfect ignition, you can't smell it. And speed, why, it simply whizzes, you can't see it."

"My word," exclaimed the astonished Britisher. "How do you know the badly thing is there?"—Boston Transcript.

MARKET LOSS CAN BE AVOIDED

Investigations Made by Experts in Several Stages.

Simple Problem to Ascertain Various Items Figuring in Expense Column—Charge for the Use of Land Must Be Added.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Man labor, horse labor, fertilizers, and seed constitute about 80 per cent of the total cost of potato production in average practice, according to investigations by the United States Department of Agriculture, experts in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, New York and Maine. These items can easily be ascertained by any farmer who wishes to keep a check on farm profits, and it is a simple problem, using them as a basis, to find out the total operating expenses, including overhead, taxes, etc. To this must be added the charge for use of land to get the total cost.

Labor and material costs are found by multiplying the number of man and team hours by the prevailing local rate and adding fertilizer costs (manure at approximately $1.50 per ton) and seed at current market price at time of planting, whether purchased or produced at home. Since these costs are, roughly, 80 per cent of operating expenses, the total expense, including supplies, machinery, storage, taxes, insurance, and overhead expense, may easily be figured. In estimating the use of land the local cash rent basis should be used, if available, and, if not, the interest at mortgage rates on the conservative acre value may be taken.

TELEGRAPHIC REPORTS HELP

Effective Work Accomplished by Imperial Valley Melon Growers and Shippers in Co-operation With Bureau of Markets.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Market glut is one of the principal causes of loss in marketing farm products, especially those of a highly perishable nature, such as soft fruits and vegetables which cannot be held until conditions of supply and demand adjust themselves. Avoidance of these ruinous conditions is possible in large measure by more careful and widespread distribution, but all products are not marketed most advantageously by the same system, and the marketing plan varies somewhat in different areas from season to season.

Know Daily Distribution.

With respect to fruits and vegetables, and more especially those of high perishability, perhaps no more effective work in broadening distribution has been accomplished than that of the Imperial valley melon growers and shippers in co-operation with the Bureau of Markets, United States Department of Agriculture. The department opens a temporary office at Brawley, Cal., at the beginning of the shipping season. By means of a large chart in the temporary office of the department shippers are able to know the daily distribution of each day's shipment and diversify.

Shipper Has Information.

This information, in conjunction with the telegraphic report compiled by the department's representatives in the East and telegraphed to its Brawley office, showing receipts, prices, and conditions in from 20 to 25 of the major markets of the country, enables the shipper to have before him each day a complete picture of the market situation with respect to melons, and those with dead germs, should be removed. White-shell eggs can be tested on the fourth or fifth day, whereas the development of eggs having brown shells often can not be seen by the use of the ordinary egg tester until the seventh day.

WOULD GO FROM HOUSE TO HOUSE

Tennessee Farmer Wants to Go From House to House and Tell Everybody About Tanlac.

"If I were not so busy with my farm work I would go from house to house and tell the people about Tanlac," said A. J. Livingston, a well-known farmer, living near Ashland City, Tenn.

"I had stomach and kidney trouble and suffered torment with my back and side. The doctors could do nothing for me, so I wrote to a friend of mine in Nashville about Tanlac, and he advised me to try it, saying he had heard so many favorable reports about it and sent me a bottle.

"After taking the first bottle I felt so much better that I ordered another bottle myself and the result is I am a well man. I told a friend of mine about it and ordered a bottle for him and he had good results. I can eat anything I want and it doesn't hurt me, and can sleep like a log. To tell you the truth, I just simply feel like a new man and have more strength and energy than I have had in years. It is simply the greatest medicine in the world. I would like to see all of my friends and get those who are suffering to try it, and I hope you will reach them through this testimonial, which I have gladly given."

Tanlac, the celebrated medicine, which accomplished such remarkable results in this man's case, is a wonderful tonic, appetizer and invigorant. It builds up the system, creates a healthy appetite, promotes digestion and assimilation of the food and makes you feel strong, sturdy and well as nature intended.

FEED LITTLE CHICKS OFTEN

No More Moistened Material Should Be Given Than Young Fowls Will Eat Up Clean.

Young chicks should be fed a little at a time and often. They should be fed early in the morning and just before going to "bed" at night, and not less than two times in the intervening period. For the first two weeks they may be fed three meals of soft feed and two of hard, and after that age two of soft and three of hard, feeding less soft feed as they grow older.

No more moistened soft feed should be given at one time than they will eat up clean. Poultry specialists in the United States Department of Agriculture say if any feed is left it should be removed or it will grow sour and cause bowel looseness and dysentery. The finely cracked grains may safely be used from the start, but the chicks do not as a rule grow as rapidly as when a part of the feed is ground. When the chicks are from four to six weeks old the frequency of feeding may be decreased to three times a day.

From the very first chicks should be induced to exercise activity is a prime factor in promoting health and growth. Feed grain in the litter, and make them scratch for it. A little fine chaff or finely cut clover makes a good litter.

DIAMOND WORN BY CARLOTTA

"Maximilian Stone," With Unhappy History, Is Now on Exhibition at New York.

A great greenish-white diamond, known as the "Maximilian stone," is an exhibition for the first time in this country at New York. Like all large gems, this stone has a history which is not happy. It was found in Brazil about 1850, and in its rough state weighed nearly 50 carats. Ferdinand Joseph Maximilian, then archduke of Austria, traveled extensively in South America. While he was in Brazil he bought the diamond, it is said, for a price approximating $375,000.

The jewel today is in the same condition as it was when worn by the Empress Marie Charlotte in Maximilian's short reign in Mexico.

When Maximilian was executed a commission was designated to sell the diamond along with other gems that had been part of the gorgeous court. The stone was bought by an American. As part of his estate the diamond is again to be sold.

WIFE'S DAY FOR THE CAR

"How many," asked the chairman of the meeting, "will promise to be on hand next Thursday with their automobiles?"

Not a hand was raised, and the surprised chairman said:

"What is the trouble? Surely some of you own cars?"

"Yes," spoke up a bold individual, "most of us own cars, but I reckon everybody here is in the same boat. I am. Thursday is the day the wife has the car and personally I know it's no use asking for it at that time."

GOT ACQUAINTED WITH ROAD

Writer Took Harriman's Advice and Studied the Erie Line Before Writing About It.

Some 15 years ago John E. Carver, as a financial writer for the Wall Street News Bureau, was assigned to cover the office and affairs of the late E. H. Harriman. He once boldly bearded Mr. Harriman upon what financing was in store for the Erie railroad.

"What do you know about the Erie?" snapped the great financier.

"Everything," assured the youthful aspirant for information, adding: "Why, Mr. Harriman, I have ridden over it—to Paterson, N. J., and Nyack, N. Y."

"What?" roared Mr. Harriman. "You go at once to President Underwood of the Erie, tell him I sent you, and get transportation to cover the entire system. Then you go out and learn something about the Erie. Come and see me when you return and I will answer your questions."

Mr. Carver Erie-ed for a fortnight and after again seeing Mr. Harriman wrote an Erie article that was well worth reading.

Grain for Sucking Pigs

Sucking pigs begin to eat grain when they are three or four weeks old, and some provision should be made for feeding them.

Kills Worms and Hoppers

Sheep have many parasites, but proper remedies and preventative measures will keep them under control.

SELECT EGGS FOR SETTING

Avoid Those That Are Abnormally Small and Poorly Shaped—Stick to One Color.

Eggs that are abnormally small and poorly shaped should not be used for incubation, neither should eggs that have thin or very porous shells, say specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. If possible, eggs should be set when fresh, and it is preferable to use for hatching eggs that are no more than two weeks old.

Use the quickest ways to obtain eggs in the fall spring is the best time to get eggs.

AVOID OVERCROWDING CHICKS

Growing Fowls Need Plenty of Room in Sleeping Quarters—Ventilation Is Needed.

After the chickens are a few weeks old special attention should be given to see that their sleeping quarters are not overcrowded. Brooders that provided plenty of room when the chicks were first hatched will now be seriously overcrowded, and the chicks will be stunted and permanently injured if more room is not given. Until they can be transferred to larger houses provide all ventilation possible.

PLAN TO EXTERMINATE RATS

If Allowed to Grow and Increase in Number, Trouble and Loss Are Sure to Follow.

If there are signs of rats about a poultry house a warfare should at once be begun against them. For a time they may cause little or no damage, but if allowed to grow large and increase in number, trouble and loss are sure to follow and may occur suddenly at any time.

ABLE TO DO HER WORK

After Long Suffering Mrs. Stiefert Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Pottsville, Pa.—"I suffered with female trouble for four or five years and was very irregular. I was not fit to do my work at times and took medicine from a doctor and got no benefit. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the newspapers and took it and got all right. I gained twenty pounds or more and am now able to do my work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and you may use these facts as a testimonial." Mrs. SALLIE STEIFERT, 312 W. Fourth Street, Pottsville, Pa.

The everyday life of many housewives is a continual struggle with weakness and pain. There is nothing more wearing than the ceaseless round of household duties and they become doubly hard when some female trouble makes every bone and muscle ache, and nerves all on edge.

If you are one of these women do not suffer for four or five years as Mrs. Stiefert did, but profit by her experience and be restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

WASHINGTON SIDELIGHTS

Who Was the First Killed in Action?

WASHINGTON.—Who was the first soldier of the American army killed in action in the World War? When President Harding participated in the ceremonies over the bodies of more than 5,000 American soldiers at Hoboken, he placed a wreath on the coffin of Private Joseph W. Guyon, a member of the Thirty-second division, with the statement that he was the first American soldier "who perished on enemy territory" in the World War. The War department furnishes the available historical data on the subject as follows:

"The first American soldiers killed in battle (November 3, 1917), were Corp. James B. Gresham (from Evansville, Ind.), Private Thomas F. Enright (from Pittsburgh, Pa.) and Private Merle D. Hay (from Glidden, Ia.), all of Company F, Sixteenth Infantry, First division.

"The following extract from the inscription on the monument erected at Battlemon, Lorraine, by the people of the department of Meurthe-et-Moselle over the graves of the three American soldiers who first lost their lives in battle was furnished by Maj. Gen. C. P. Summerall:

"Here, in Lorraine earth, rest the three first American soldiers who were killed in view of the enemy on the 3rd of November, 1917. Corporal James B. Gresham (from Evansville), Private Thomas F. Enright (from Pittsburgh), Private Merle D. Hay (from Glidden), all of Company F, Sixteenth Infantry regiment, First division.

"As worthy sons of their great noble nation, they have fought for Justice, Liberty and Civilization against the German Imperialism, scourge of mankind. They died on the Field of Honor."

"Lorraine was enemy territory when this action took place."

Ten Norwegian Fellers Bane in Congress

The people of South Dakota's new senator, Peter Norbeck, came from Trondheim. He is an expert in marketing and general farming and good roads and can make a good speech. He is fifty-one.

Representative Gilbert N. Haugen of Iowa was born in Wisconsin in 1850. He entered business in Iowa when fourteen, and when eighteen bought a farm. This is his twelfth term in the house.

Harold Knutson of Minnesota, majority whip of the house, is serving his third term. He was born in 1875 (congressional directory doesn't say where). He got his education in the Minnesota schools and has been a newspaper editor and publisher.

Representative Charles A. Christopherson of South Dakota was born in Minnesota in 1871. He is a lawyer and educator and member of several fraternal organizations. He was speaker of the state legislature. This is his second term.

Harvor Steenerson of Minnesota was born in Wisconsin in 1852. He is a lawyer and is interested in farming; this is his tenth term in the house.

M. A. Michaelson represents the seventh Chicago district. He was born in Kristiansund in 1875 and began his Chicago career teaching school.

Finally there is Andrew J. Voistead of Minnesota. He was born in that state in 1880. He is a lawyer and educator. He has been in the house since 1903. His people came from Telemark.

Now the Public Is to Have a Lobby

These groups are organized and have lobbies to present their arguments forcefully before congressional committees. Almost any information needed by them can be obtained instantly from their headquarters.

The new group of men and women that aim to serve the people's interests claim that they are not starting a lobby. The institution is somewhat like a lobby in that it is a source of information for congress. But unlike a lobby it represents no limited part of the population, but the public as a whole. It is for the benefit of any congressman who wants information on the public's side, and it is maintained by subscriptions of members.

The national council of the people's legislative service is made up of men and women in all parts of the country who are interested in the public welfare, as well as in that of some particular group.

Rules for Feeding Calves

Desired Nutrients Furnished by Giving Young Animals Variety—Avoid Sudden Changes

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Feeding is an important factor in developing a good breeding animal, or a favorite in the show ring. There are many points to be remembered. These points may be called rules of feeding, among which specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture give the following:

1. Provide a variety of feeds at all times. It is easier to supply the proper amounts of the desired nutrients which the calf needs if several different feeds are used. The ration will also be more palatable.

2. Do not make sudden changes in the feeds used or in the amounts given. If it becomes necessary to change feeds from, say, clover to alfalfa hay, gradually reduce the amount of clover and at the same time increase the alfalfa.

3. Do not overfeed the calf. Feed as much grain as it will clean up in 30 minutes and wish it had just a little more. Feed left in the trough to be breathed over is worse than wasted. If any remains it should be removed, and less given the next time. Digestive disorders occur from feeding too much rather than too little.

4. Do not underfeed the calf. It should make a continuous gain. If it does not grow each day the feed given it is about the same as wasted. It never pays to starve a calf. In fact, the calf does not begin to pay for feed until it is given more than enough to make some gain.

5. Do not annoy or disturb the calf unnecessarily. It requires more feed to keep it growing while standing or moving about than while lying down at rest.

6. Do not feed moldy, musty, or spoiled feeds. To do so may cause serious digestive disorders. All feeds should be bright, well cured, and free from mustiness, dirt, and coarse weeds. The grain should also be free from dirt, mold, and mustiness. If ground feeds get wet they are likely to mold. This is especially true of cottonseed meal and ground corn.

7. Do not waste time in feeding the calf, or in preparing feed, since wasted time needlessly increases the cost of gains. Grain should be fed whole except when teaching the calf to eat and possibly also near the end of the finishing or finishing period. Whole grain as a rule is more palatable than ground feeds. Bar corn may be shelled, broken or chopped up in the feed box rather than ground. Husks on snapped corn need not be removed for this purpose. If barely pays to shuck over, or to cut or chop hay for the calf, it need not be fed three times a day, then twice a day will do as well, although the former may be practiced when the animal first shows or sale. Do not go to the expense of buying prepared "stock feeds" or "remedies." Home-mixed feeds are cheaper and equally, if not more, satisfactory. A healthy calf does not need condition powders.

8. Encourage fence jumpers. Dilapidated fencing is source of constant trouble for owner of Dairy Herd.

Half broken down fences help to teach the cows to be fence jumpers. Instead of this, constantly jumping the fence in easy places are sure to break in later life and nothing is more wasteful of time and patience than constantly chasing your cattle out of your neighbor's crops or your own. Good fencing is necessary equipment for the dairyman and poor fencing is a constant risk.

9. Giving young calves milk. Care should be taken that temperature is uniform—When Poor in Quality Give Less.

Care should be taken to see that any milk fed to the young calves is of uniform temperature of about 80 degrees Fahrenheit. Many feeders attempt to overcome poor quality in the feed by increasing the quantity. This is actually wrong. When an amount of raw, souring milk, etc., the quality of the milk is poor, the quantity should be reduced rather than increased.

10. Give Bull a Chance. Don't neglect the bull bull. Remember he is half the herd, and treat him accordingly. He doesn't mean to punish you, but he can't help it.

DODSON STOPS SALE OF CALOMEL

"Dodson's Liver Tone" is Taking Place of Dangerous, Sickening Chemical, Say Druggists

Every druggist in town has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. "Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place."

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it," Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle doesn't cost very much but it falls to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation. Just ask for your money back.

Substituted. "So you have taken to carrying around a monkey? This is going too far!" "Well, you never go anywhere with me," was his wife's somewhat ambiguous retort.

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition. Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be dependent; it makes any one so.

But, hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kline's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kline & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.

Glass Workers Lose Sight. Many of the workmen in the glass factories of Venice begin to lose their sight after they have passed their fortieth year and soon become totally blind. The impairment of vision is caused by the excessive heat and the glare from the glass furnaces.

The New Habit. "Are you having any difficulty enforcing prohibition in Crimmon Gulch?" "No," replied Cactus Joe. "Man is the creature of habit and while we dunno whether he approve of it or not, we can't help but be surprised at the number of men that has contracted the habit of not takin' a drink."

He who has misgivings at the start will never finish anything.

Old Ed & his Neighbor. If you want to talk blue talk; business all gone to pot; country facing the worst time in its history; haven't begun to see the hard times yet; prices going lower and half the merchants are going to fail; two-thirds of the farms will be foreclosed, and all that line of conversation, don't come around and talk to the Times. In the first place we don't believe it, and in the second place it makes us feel bad and nervous for a while—Clay Center (Kan.) Times.

FALLEN HERO IS LAID TO REST WITH HONORS IN NATIVE COUNTRY.

Remains of Clement Robert Bontemps, of Bay St. Louis, Arrive From Overseas to Lie in Native Soil.
FELL AT CHATEAU THIERY, ON JUNE 14, 1918.
Funeral in Bay St. Louis Wednesday Afternoon, One of Largest Held in This City. Floral Tributes Were Many.
The remains of Clement Robert Bontemps, 78th Co., 6th Regiment, U. S. Marines, reached here from France by way of New York Tuesday morning, accompanied by private Beers, of Fort McPherson, Ga. The casket was taken to the residence of a sister of the deceased, Mrs. Joseph L. Gager, in Carroll avenue.
Following Bontemps was wounded in battle at June 14, 1918, at Belleau Woods, Chateau Thierry, France, and died at the field hospital the day following. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Bontemps, and is survived by a brother Joseph V. Bontemps and three sisters, Mrs. Marcel Telhous, Mrs. D. Ziegler and Mrs. Joseph L. Gager. He was a native of Bay St. Louis, aged 23 years.
He was an excellent young man, a type of fine character, and when the message telling of his death reached here in June, 1918, there was general sorrow expressed at his passing away.
THE FUNERAL.
The funeral, which took place Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Gager, the latter a sister, was one of the largest ever witnessed in Bay St. Louis and extended over a great distance. In addition to many local friends and acquaintances who had gathered to pay tribute to the memory of the fallen hero, there were many from away. Among those from out of town it was noted that many boy friends and companions of youth had come here, some from great distance, to be present at the last ceremony, to mingle their tears and unite their hearts with those who mourned their loved best young Bontemps. Some were comrades in ranks and in arms.
From the residence the beautiful casket, covered with the American flag and with a wealth of flowers, was duly taken to the church of Our Lady of the Gulf, where the Rev. Father Costello, of St. Clare's parish, a friend of the family, delivered the funeral oration. It was a splendid effort and breathed a spirit born of patriotic heart beats, lofty thoughts and inspiring in their conception. Even on other similar occasions has no such address been delivered. It was all deserving, too, of the young man who had severed all ties, friends and all that his native place held dear to him, he had sacrificed all when he volunteered among the very first to go to defend his flag, his country and its people; he had gone into a foreign country; he fought valiantly on the field and in the battlefield, where he made the supreme sacrifice in order that others might live. No man hath more to give.
AT ST. MARY'S.
From the church the funeral cortege proceeded to St. Mary's cemetery, and here within the hallowed precincts of God's Acre, all that was mortal of the "Youth to fortune and to fame," which Gray has spoken of so beautifully in his famous elegy, was laid to rest in the keeping of Mother Earth, in the far land plot, the ashes of his mother on one side and that of his father on the other. It was for this the remains had traveled over three thousand miles across the sea to find their last resting place, but along the restful place of the father and mother who had given to the world a martyr in war, a hero in peace.
The freshly-made mound was literally covered with a profusion of choice and rare flowers, every one a silent but eloquent tribute, every petal a silent prayer. The language of flowers was never more expressive than on this solemn occasion. The very exhalations of their fragrances were wafted heavenward in significant meaning. The human heart has been called upon to bear burdens sorrow that the human mind cannot fathom. It is the inscrutable wisdom of God that sends these moments in our anguish we can only cry out aloud, "O, Father, Thy will be done." So, resigned, although with bleeding heart and tear-blinding eyes we accept with sublime will and courage this loss, and bereaved ones must bear with Christian fortitude.
That the sympathy of the community and people from surrounding country is with the bereft brother and sisters was manifest by the outpouring of people who attended the last obsequies. The eloquent tributes of sympathy and pays its tribute, too, of love, respect and admiration to the memory of the Bay St. Louis soldier hero, Clement Robert Bontemps.

TRIBUTE TO A FALLEN SOLDIER.
BY LORYMER LAMB.
(James Lovick Mitchell.)
Comrade in Arms, fallen upon the battlefield of Flanders, that "Nations might not learn from the Earth," I salute you!
Your name is indelible forever; your footprints "On the sands of time" shine forth and light the path you so unselfishly trod.
"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." This you have done!
Fighting for Democracy you died, slain while fighting for your God, your country and your friends; fortunate you are! Yours is the name immortal!
Thus you are placed to rest, while mocking-bird chants your funeral lay; in breathless, anxious space, your memory lives within our minds and hearts again.
Described upon the page of Life's Honor Roll we read—
CLEMMENT ROBERT BONTEMPS, Martyr.
Unselfish, he died. Now preserve his name as honor, his all by ex-acting of the "Treaty of Versailles," the principles for which he fought and died.

Son's Acting in "The Kid," Which Comes to A. & G. Theatre, Effects Mrs. Coogan That She Won't See the End.
As a general rule mothers are pretty good judges as to whether their children are in real trouble, or are shamming tears for the purpose of gaining some object. Once in a while, however, a juvenile actor really happens, and such is Jackie Coogan who plays the title role in "The Kid," the special Associated First National attraction, starring Charlie Chaplin which will be the attraction at the A. & G. Theatre Bay St. Louis, on Thursday night of next week.
The picture contains one of the most pathetic scenes ever filmed, when the authorities insist on separating Charlie and the Kid on the grounds that Charlie is not a fit guardian for him. The Kid bursts into tears at the idea of the parting.
Mrs. Coogan, mother of the boy, was invited to a special showing of the picture, and left the projection room in the midst of this scene.
"You may tell me it is only acting," she said outside with tears streaming down her face, "but I know better than that. Jackie would never cry like that unless his heart was broken. Although I know he is at home this minute and probably up to some mischief, I can't stand to see pictures of him, while his heart is being torn right out of him."
She stuck to it too, and has never seen the last half of the production, which carries her son through to the happy ending on a flood of comedy of the kind which only Charlie Chaplin can produce.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR
THE FORD COUPE

More and more this fine enclosed car for two—but it will carry as many as three—is growing in popular demand. Strongly built, the body rests upon that marvelous cord chassis. It brings to its owner every modern-day convenience; easy riding; while sliding plate glass windows make it breezy and cool in hot weather; dust-proof and water-proof when the windows are closed; it is cozy and comfortable in cold and inclement wintry weather. Then there is the durability of the car, coupled with the low economy of first cost and the saving of money in operating expense. Behind it, and every other Ford car, is that unsurpassed "Ford-After-Service" which is given by the Army of Ford Dealers scattered all over the country. Place your order now. Come in and let us talk it over.
